White Goods OPENING.

As a result of recent very extensive purchases we are now showing an unusually large and attractive stock of

New White Goods,

Containing some of the best bargains it was ever our pleasure to offer. Prices rule somewhat lower than last season, while the standard of quality and beauty of design show a decided advancement.

GEORGE

COMPANY.

WANTED.—A position at office work by a young man of ability. Address "B," this office.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Judge Allen Zollars returned to Indianapolis to-day.

Col. R. S. Robertson went to Indianapolis last night.

Catherine, daughter of Conrad Becker, was buried yesterday.

Travel is picking up on the railroads and hotel business is looking up.

J. S. Tyler and H. Clay, of this city, have been granted army pensions.

A child of Belle Arnold, an inmate of the county asylum, was buried yesterday.

Mr. Jake Kelley, of Root & Co's. store, is quite ill at the home of Esquire Ryan.

J. D. Alliger, the pleasant editor of the Monroeville Breeze, made us a call to-day,

J. B. Maynard, Nebraska, and J. E. Kingsey, Toledo, are at the Aveline house.

Supt. W. H. Canniff, of the Lake Shore road, is a guest of the Wayne hotel,

A clerk for Beaverforden, the druggist, was arrested to-day for selling liquor on Sunday.

The eleven year old daughter or Mrs. Perrett, janitress of the Hanna street school, died this morning.

Charles Catterlin and Fannie B. Ogden, Wm. Rndolph, jr., and Mary Peppers, Wm. Borman and Clara Belle Nail have been licensed to wed.

Wm. Thyan, of 100 Force street, died yesterday, aged fifty-one years. Funeral to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Peter's Catholic church.

Mr. S. W. Dodge has given up the idea of managing the Spring Beach hotel, at Rome City, and is now a regular chair car conductor on the Grand Rapids road.

Mr. Campbell, the day clerk at the Wayne hotel, has resigned his position, and it is said with Will Burleigh, the billiard expert, will open a house of call in this city.

The case of Hannah Flock vs. Bernhard Borkenstein, has been appealed to Juge O'Rourke from Justice Harding. R. S. Robertson and Worden and Morris are attorneys.

Mrs. Moore, wife of an employ of the Pittsburg freight house, died this morning of pneumonia, aged 47 years. Her remains will be shipped to Bourbon tomorrow for burial.

The Indianapolis Journal says: Harry Crawford, as soon as he gets a little leisure, will turn his attention to extending the Indiana Midland to Fort Wayne. He expresses the opinion that with their road through to that point they could find a market in that territory for all the coal they produce from the mines which are opened or likely to be for some years.

Miss Alice Genevra Von Sweringen, who is now in Cincinnati receiving instructions in piano music from Prof. John S. Van Cleve, is, it is said, making very rapid advancement in her studies. In the past few weeks she has mastered thirteen "Etudes" of Heller, two "songs without words" of Mendelssohn (difficult), two "waltzes," and two "impromptus" of Chopin, and also a movement from Clementi. Professor Van Cleve gives a grand concert on Thursday evening, May 10th, and Miss Alice is down on the program for a "nocturne" of her own composition, Chopin's "impromptu" in a flat, and other selections. The many friends of Miss Sweringen will be glad to learn of her success.

THE PENSION BILL.

The House Committee Will Report Favorably on the Dependent Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The house committee on invalid pensions this morning took final action upon the senate bill known as the dependent pension bill. Some verbal amendments were made to the first section, relating to the claims of dependent parents, but none of them materially changed the effect of the section. A substitute was adopted for the second section, which is the principal section of the bill.

The substitute provides a pension for all persons who have served in the military or naval service of the United States for any period, and who have been honorably discharged, and who are now or may hereafter be suffering from mental or physical disability, not the result of their own vicious habits, which to-day disables them from the performance of manual labor, at the rate per month of one cent for every day's war services.

It further provides the same pension for all persons who are sixty-two years of age, or who may hereafter become sixty-two years of age during their natural life.

Section three was amended so as to provide that when the widow of a soldier is in a condition of dependance or suffering from any disability, recognized by the general pension laws, or is sixty-two years of age, she shall be placed upon the pension roll the same as her husband would receive.

The fourth section was amended so as to make attorneys fees $5 instead of $10. The element of dependency placed in the grand army bill by the senate, was eliminated, so that all soldiers are to be pensioned for their services equally, without regard to their financial condition and according to the per diem idea.

The amendments were adopted by a strict party vote, republicans favoring the provisions of the senate bill, so that the amended bill may be regarded as embodying the democratic policy in the matter of pension legislation.

A Marine Invention.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Wilhelm Weissel, the second officer of the steamship Werra, of North German Lloyd, has invented an oil rocket that throws oil over a very large area. The rocket may be exploded under water, the oil, being lighter, naturally rising to the surface. Interesting experiments have been made, proving the practical value of the invention. The rockets have been used in this port in the way of an experiment, and will, it is said, be of great value to the life saving corps among the coasts in calming water along the shore and aiding vessels in distress.

Canada's Opinion.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Erastus Wiman says the vote at Ottawa might be regarded as a crushing defeat if it had any significance whatever as representing the true sentiment of the people of Canada on the question of the enlarged relations with the United States. He says since parliament was elected new light has been received by the people and a general election would now produce a different result.

Death of Mrs. Marx Graff.

Died, this morning at 3 o'clock, at Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. Marx Graff, an old resident of this city, the mother of Myer L. Graff and a large family and is well known here. The burial will take place here and will be announced later.

Failures.

CINCINNATI, O., March 9.—The Lomas Bridge and Forge company assigned today to Charles Anderson. Liabilities $50,000; assett $75,000. The company claims that the embarrassment is only temporary.

Assassins at Lafayette.

Special to the Sentinel.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 9.—Saturday night an unknown assassin attempted to shoot Fred Klooz, at the gate of his home in this city.

Fatal Fight at Wabash.

WABASH, Ind.. April 9.—Ben Walma was fatally injured Saturday at Peru. He was attacked by Oscar Zephie and Will Brenning, who broke a chair over the unfurtunate man's body, fracturing several ribs and producing severe internal injuries. The three men quarrelled over a trival matter. Zephie and Brenning are in jail, and will have a hearing to-day.

PRINCE BISMARCK

Withdraws His Opposition to Alexander's Marriage and will not Resign—Boulanger's Victory in France.

PARIS, April 9.—In the election yesterday to fill the vacancy in the chamber of deputies from the department of Dordogne, General Boulanger was chosen.

BERLIN, April 9.—Prince Alexander, of Battenburg, comes to Charlottenberg next Thursday, and his betrothal to Princess Victoria takes place early in June. Prince Bismarck has withdrawn his resignation solely from a consideration that the domination of the Empress Victoria would speedily lead to a break up of German unity.

It is stated to-day that Prince Bismarck has abandoned his opposition to the marriage of Prince Alexander, of Battenberg, and Princess Victoria, having gained certain other concessions. All the differences between the emperor and Prince Bismarck are now settled.

Empress Victoria and Princesses Victoria, Sophie and Margaret have started for Posen to inquire as to the condition of the sufferers by the floods.

TANGIER, April 9.—An agreement was signed to-day by the Moorish minister of foreign affairs and Mr. Lewis, the American consul, referring the dispute between the United States and Morocco to arbitration.

DUBLIN, April 9.—Proclaimed meetings were held all over Ireland yesterday. The police interfered and many persons were injured.

Roscoe Conkling Worse.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Roscoe Conkling's condition changed much for the worse last night. Dr. Fordyce Barker said to-day it was an affection of the brain, which is likely to prove fatal. Drs. Agnew and Barker will visit the patient this afternoon.

At 2:30 p. m. Mr. Conkling's condition was unchanged from the last report. Dr. Barker, at the conclusion of the conference, said the patient's condition is very unpromising and that he was suffering from inflammation of the eye, which had extended to the membranes of the brain. The probabilities were that Mr. Conkling would not recover, though there was a possibility that he might get well.

SCHOOL BURNED.

The State Normal School at Terre Haute Burns and 800 Pupils Escape With Their Lives.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 9.—A fire caught in the Mansard roof of the State Normal school a little before nine this morning. Eight hundred pupils were in the building, 175 of whom were small children in training school. All got out in safety, with a portion only of their books and wraps however. In pursuance of the policy of the state there was no insurance on the structure.

It cost $189,000, of which the City of Terre Haute gave $50,000, in addition to the grounds.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 9.—The state normal school was burned to the ground this morning. No loss of life, and not a dollar of insurance.

A GREAT LOSS.

A Portion of the Jenney Electric Light Works to be Removed to Plymouth.

It is authoritatively stated that the Jenney electric light company will transfer the main portion of their Fort Wayne plant to Plymouth, Ind., at once.

The Plymouth people give them a bonus of $15,000, with shop sites, and subscribe $150,000 to the capital stock of the company.

The Plymouth syndicate paid over $5,000 Saturday to bind the bargain and it can be regarded as settled.

The arc or street light branch of the works are to go from us, leaving in Fort Wayne only the incandescent light manufactory.

This will take 100 or 200 men from Fort Wayne and is a severe loss.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Wheat, steady, 72½c. Corn, steady, 48½c. Oats, steady, May, 30¼. Rye, steady; May 60c. Prime timothy, $2.62@2.63. Flaxseed, $1.45. Whisky, $1.15. Pork, firmer; $13.87½. Lard, steady, $7.50 May short ribs, $7.05@7.07½.

The republican convention at Bloomington, Ind., Saturday, indorsed Colonel Robertson, of this city, for governor.

STILL A DEAD LOCK.

The House Commences its Sixth Day of the Great Contest Over the Direct Tax Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The demand for regular order, from Reed, of Maine, opened the sixth days' contest over the direct tax bill, when the house met this morning. Breckenridge, of Arkakssa, and Weaver, of Iowa, made dilitory motions.

The house committee on Elections will make a unanimous report in the Frank-Glover contest favorable to the sitting member. This, it is said, will be offset by the report in the California contest favorably to the republican contestant.

Illinois men who appear to be fortified with inside information express great confidence that Judge John Scholfield, one of the justices of the supreme court of Illinois, will be nominated by the president for chief justice of the supreme court of the United States.

AN OLEOMARGARINE CASE.

The supreme court of the United States to-day rendered an opinion in the case from Pennsylvania, commonly known as the "Oleomargarine Case," affirming the judgment of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, sustaining the validity of the statute of that commonwealth making it unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell or offer for sale, any butter or cheese or any article designed to take the place of these articles, produced from any compound other than unadulturated milk and cream.

Until 2:30 o'clock the clerk continued to call the roll upon the various motions submitted. Then the house found itself without a quorum, and Mr. Weaver moved an adjourn ment. The motion was defeated; yeas, 151; nays, eighty; There was particularly no change in the relative strength. The call of the house was then ordered.

EIGHT SERMONS.

By Rev. S. A. Northrop to the Young Men of the City on Practical Subjects.

The sermon delivered by Rev. Northrop yesterday morning at the Baptist church, on "Kind Words," was a practical one and delivered with the eloquent pastor's usual force and power. There are few ministers more active and zealous in gospel work than Pastor Northrop. Many of his sermons are directed to the young people of the church and he announced yesterday, that, beginning with Sunday evening, May 6, he would deliver a series of eight sermons to young men on "The Causes and Condition of Success in Life." The following are the subjects, which will be treated in the order given:

"The Cradle, or Where to be Born."

"The School Days, or Fitting for a Career."

"The Dawn of Destiny, or Choosing a Life Work."

"The Apprenticeship, or the Way of Promotion."

"The Fireside, or the Blessings of a Good Wife."

"The Bank Book, or Some Stepping Stones to Success."

"The Church Pew, or the Place of Religion in a True Life."

"The Commercial Records, or Why do so Many Men Fail."

Over fifty business men of Fort Wayne have given their experience with a view to the illustration of these sermons.

REV. A. E. MAHIN.

Kind Words for the Presiding Elder of the Fort Wayne District.

The Wabash Plain-Dealer says:

Rev. A. E. Mahin, of the M. E. church, has resided in Wabosh only two years, but in that period he has become enshrined in the hearts of his congregation as one of the most devoted Christians who ever occupied a pulpit.

Rev. Mahin is one of the most profound thinkers, clearest reasoners and forcible orators, the conference has ever sent here, and while his friends rejoice at his elevation to the eldership of the Fort Wayne district, his removal from their midst causes widespread sorrow and regret, and many were the tears shed upon the announcement of his appointment to an eldership being made. Rev. Mahin and his family go to Fort Wayne followed with the sincerest wishes of the members of the Methodist Episcopal church of Wabash, for their happiness and prosperity, and while Wabash losses one of the best ministers and citizens it has ever had, there is some consolation in knowing that Fort Wayne gains one. Rev. Mahin will deliver his farewell sermon Sunday night.

Another Shipment of Turkish Prunes.

New Turkish prunes 5c pound.

FRUIT HOUSE.

WESTERN FLOODS.

The Rains in Minnesota Cause the Greatest Floods Known Since Its Settlement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9—Indiana, rain, followed by cooler, fair weather.

ST. PETER, Minn., April 9.—The Minnesota river broke over its banks yesterday and is flooding the bottom lands, east of the city, for miles.

AUBERT LEA, Minn., April 9.—The rain storms of the last three days, together with the great thaws, have caused the greatest floods in the Fountain and Albert Lea lakes and the Shell Rock river known since the country was settled.

WATER WORKS RATES.

The Trustees Going to Prove They are Higher in Other Cities.

"The water works trustees are collecting statistics to show that water rents are cheaper in Fort Wayne than in most cities in the United States," said a well known attorney this morning.

"They expect in this way," continued he, "to tide over the injustice of levying exorbitant water rates when the law makes plain their duty and permits them to furnish water at almost its cost, if they only collect the department monies as the statutes provide they shall."

This will hardly appease the demand for cheap water in Fort Wayne. The consumers know just what it costs to pump every gallon of water, they know what they pay for it and what they get it for, so the argument that other cities are being robbed will scarcely meet the reasonable demands.

The cry is still for a fair and honest interpretation of the water works laws and if the trustees lent half the energy in this direction that they do in other directions we would have water at its actual cost and plenty of it.

CHEAP GAS.

A Hint That the Home Company Will Reduce its Schedule Price.

It is given out on pretty reliable authority that the Fort Wayne Gas Company has concluded to reduce the price of illuminating gas from $2 to $1.50 per thousand.

This is in the right direction, but we can stand more of it and THE SENTINEL will continue to agitate the matter until something is done. As it is, small favors are thankfully received.

THE WHEELMEN.

Their Fourth Annual Banquet This Evening.

This evening, at the Wayne hotel, the Fort Wayne bicycle club, will give its fourth annual banquet.

President McLain asks the members to respond at the club hall at 8 o'clock sharp.

Mr. Carl P. Swain will preside over the feast and below are the toasts of the evening:

"The Fort Wayne Bicycle Club"—Charles J. McLain.

"The City of Fort Wayne"—A. J. Moynihan.

"The Wheelman"—C. W. Edgerton.

"The Road Hog; We Despise Him"—P. C. Darrow.

"Our Right Upon the Road"—Chas. W. Kuhne.

"The Age of Wheels—August Detzer.

"The Small Boy—A Necessary Evil"—T. F. Thieme.

"A Bicycle"—Leroy Hartzler.

Notice to Taxpayers.

The office of the county treasurer will be open every evening, commencing with next Monday, until the 16th of April, for the payment of county taxes. Monday, April 16, is the last day for the payment of the first installment of county taxes.

ISAAC MOWRER,
7-2t County Treasurer.

Notice to the Public.

We have agreed with the other groceries to close our place of business at 7:30 each evening in the week, except Saturdays, and the 10th, 11th, 17th and 18th of each month.

The main object in this is that the employes as well as the employers will have more time for themselves in the evening and shorter hours of labor. We trust the people will sustain us in this movement by arranging to make their purchases as early as possible during the afternoon. Respectfully,

7-2t FRUIT HOUSE.

Notice to Tax Payers.

I will be in my office every night from 7 o'clock until 8:30 o'clock, from Monday the 19th March to April 16th.

H. C. BRENGOFF,
17tf City Treasurer.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Dropped His Revolver and the Bullet Passes Through His Wife's Heart.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 9.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, of Las Vegas, came here yesterday. While they were walking along the street a revolver fell from Mr. Reynold's overcoat pocket. It struck on the hammer and was discharged. The ball entered Mrs. Reynold's body on her left side, ranged upward and passed directly through the heart, killing her instantly.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

Monday Bobs Up as Usual With Nothing Startling Since We Saw You Last.

Railroad traffic is moving along with its old time activity.

Work is brisk around every department of the Olds works.

E. B. White, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has returned from his eastern trip.

The men in the moulding rooms of the Bass works were taking a day off today.

The train men of the Wabash have been notified to have their watches examined.

Adolph Wichman has taken a position in the Bass works and will learn the machinist trade.

The Pittsburg works are only turning out new locomotives at the rate of three every two months.

Thomas Sheppard, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, has returned to work again after an illness of over two months.

The Pittsburg machine shop was shut down for half an hour this morning on account of a hot box in the engine.

The Pittsburg shops received four engines for repairs last week. Three of them were repaired and have left the shops.

Mr. Barney Fitzpatrick, the general superintendent of the Pittsburg Machine shops, has been on the sick list for the last few days.

Agents of west-bound roads, at a meeting Friday in Buffalo, adopted a summer coal tariff basis of $2 to Chicago and $2.50 to St. Louis.

Martin Irons, the Napoleon of the great southwestern railroad strike of two years ago, is now conducting a peanut stand on a big scale at St. Louis.

Another conference of flint-glass manufactures and workmen has been called for this week, when another attempt will be made to settle the strike. The conference was called by the manufacturers.

C. C. Daseler, of the Pittsburg machine shops, was driving his "high stepper" out in the country yesterday and viewed the prospective fruit crop. He reports wheat out on the St. Joe road as looking very bad.

Frank Fitzpatrick, of the Pittsburg machine shops, is expected to return from Chicago and Wanatah to-morrow, bringing back with him a new horse that he purchased at the latter place that can cover the road at the rate of 2:14¼.

Wm. A. Baldwin, formerly general manager of the Pennsylvania's northwestern lines west of Pittsburg, has assumed the duties of vice president and general manager of the Rochester and Pittsburg road.

The passenger earnings of the Ohio, Indiana and Western road for the last two weeks have been the lightest in the history of the road. The troubles on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy seriously affected them.

The 1,000 mile tickets, at two cents a mile, are daily becoming more popular, and the more roads they cover the more popular will they become. On some Indianapolis lines fully 50 per cent. of the travel is on this class of tickets.

Most of the roads will put on their usual number of construction trains on Monday next, and begin graveling road beds, filling up trestles, etc. There is a much better feeling regarding proposed improvement to road beds and equipments than a week ago.

J. H. Holbrook, of Shop Clerk Tom Tom Meeghan's office, has purchased a new horse and F. J. Rodabaugh is trembling with the fear that he will receive a challenge either from him or Frank Fitzpatrick. The boys in the Pittsburg shops are great lovers of fast horses.

There is no employment fraught with more danger than the life of the locomotive engineer. Standing at the throttle of his engine he faces death every moment of his trip. It is no place for a coward and such an occupation deserves good wages, so that brave and competent men may fill these responsible positions. THE SENTINEL is a friend of the Locomotive Engineer, and believes that the brotherhood as a class are skilled and competent mechanics.

The spring term of the Conservatory of Music begins on next Wednesday, April 11. Enrollment of pupils Monday and Tuesday. 7-3t

Pure ice cream, fresh fruit sherbits, fine cakes of all kinds, soda water with the pure fruit syrup on draught, at the Chicago Bakery. 9-3t

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for as such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HISTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

MR. MUNSON, MR. DOUGHERTY AND THE SENTINEL.

There are some things about Mr. Munson's candidacy for auditor of state, and THE SENTINEL'S relation thereto, that ought to be understood by the public and especially by democrats.

Mr. Munson had no opposition for the nomination when he voluntarily withdrew from the race. He would have had none had he remained on the track. He based his declination upon reasons which seemed to be sufficient. He wrote a letter to the Indianapolis Sentinel in which he declared that the condition of his partner's health and the demands of his private business would preclude the possibility of his making a canvass for the position. He expressly absolved all of his friends from any obligation to support him for an office, which he declared he could not accept, and left them free to transfer their support to any candidate who might commend himself to their favor.

THE SENTINEL supposed that Mr. Munson was acting in good faith in this matter. We believed that he withdrew for the reasons stated, that Mr. Lillie's health was too poor and the demands of his business too pressing to admit of his devoting several months to a political campaign. THE SENTINEL did not believe, what was freely charged, that Mr. Munson withdrew because he feared that Mr. Cleveland's position on the tariff question would lose the democrats the state, and that he "did not want to take any chances."

Immediately upon Mr. Munson's withdrawal he urged Hon. Hugh Dougherty to seek the nomination, and pledged that gentleman his earnest support. Only three days later, without personally consulting Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Munson announced himself as again a candidate. Whether in the meantime Mr. Lillie's health had improved, or the business affairs of Lillie & Munson had changed their aspect, or the prospect for democratic success in Indiana had, in Mr. Munson's opinion, improved, we do not know. But certain it is that neither Mr. Munson nor any other man has any right to trifle with his friends and his party, as he did when he took himself off the track on Monday, urged another man to enter the field on Tuesday, and became a candidate again on Thursday.

Certainly Mr. Munson's strange course released all his friends from any obligation to support him when he renewed his candidacy. THE SENTINEL was under no obligation to do so, express or implied, but if it had been, the obligation was removed by Mr. Munson of his own volition. He has no right to complain because THE SENTINEL now supports Mr. Hugh Dougherty for the office. Mr. Dougherty is a clean man, an able man, an honest man; one who would add strength to the ticket and would fill the office with credit. Mr. Munson himself is pledged to support Mr. Dougherty—a pledge from which he has never been released.

Mr. Dougherty, we may add, never made a pledge of any kind, political or otherwise, that he did not carry out.

PENSION legislation is handled too lightly in both houses of congress, and for this reason the task of weighing and ascertaining the justice of each claim rests with the president. The other day, for instance, the senate passed 527 pension bills in less than one hour and a half, giving to each measure a consideration of less than ten seconds. One of the bills gave a pension of $25 a month to Dr. Mary Walker, as a "late assistant surgeon in the United States army," another pensioned a soldier's "foster mother." We can hardly marvel at the vetoes on this sort of legislation.

THE water works trustees are now laboring to impress the people that because other cities levy high water rates the citizens of Fort Wayne ought to submit calmly to slighter extortions. What a pernicious idea of public service some people have.

FULL RETURNS of the Rhode Island election show that the republican candidate for governor has but a majority of 1,984. It was not an overwhelming republican victory, but it will do for Rhode Island.

AT Indianapolis the city does all the street sprinkling, and awards the work by contract. There appears to be much equity in this practice and it offers a suggestion to the Fort Wayne authorities.

CHEAP gas is a public necessity and must come. Further submission to the extortionate price levied by the Fort Wayne company is out of the question.

DEMOCRATIC prospects in Indiana brighten every day, and this is something when they were always good.

CHEAP water and cheap gas are the necessities of the hour.

SAMUEL S. BAKER, editor of the Hoosier Democrat, at Warsaw, died last week of consumption, aged forty-one years.

JUDGE GRESHAM has hosts of republican friends in the state, but Mr. Harrison's machine moulds the delegates to order unmindful of consequences.

A COMMITTEE was organized at Chicago, Saturday night, to forward Judge Gresham's presidential aspirations. This is sweet solace for the Gazette.

The Remains of the Late W. D. G. Bond Arrive for Burial---Tributes From Kansas City.

Yesterday morning the remains of the late W. D. G. Bond arrived from Kansas City, accompanied by Mr. Henry Bond, the father, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nelson and Mr. Geo. Randall. They were conveyed to the residence of Mr. S. B. Bond, in South Wayne.

Mrs. Bond, mother of the deceased, arrived from St. Louis, Mich., Saturday night, accompanied by Mr. W. W. Rockhill. She bears up well under the awful sorrow but is by no means well.

The funeral of Mr. Bond occurred this afternoon, Rev. W. N. Webbe officiating.

The press of this city sent a floral pillow as a token of their remembrance.

Tributes From the Kansas City Press.

The Kansas City Star says.

The death yesterday, after a brief illness, of William DeGroff Bond, a highly valued member of the Star's reportorial staff, brings a grief to family and friends which time alone can assuage, and calls for another tablet in local journalism which will be filled out with words of heartfelt praise. The memory of Willie Bond, as he was known to the friends of his childhood, is redolent with the perfumes of a sweet, gentle nature. He was an only child, loved and cherished by a mother and father as the very essence of their lives. But the tender care which followed him from the cradle, and a frail constitution which was his inheritance, did not prevent him from developing at an unusually early age a manliness of bearing and purpose which were the most marked traits of his character.

In the case of Willie Bond, there was a peacefulness in death which ought to bring all the consolation there is in faith and hope. The brief span of life he spent on this earth was without a single blot or stain, and when his friends gathered around the casket which contained his mortal remains they looked upon a sleeping boy, at rest and happy. All the misery connected with his death is left behind; all the sorrow he can carry into his grave is the possible knowledge that hearts are breaking at the parting. To those who mourn as they are mourning who are bowed down over the green memory of his bright, beautiful life, words are vain and empty. But when the acute pangs of grief shall be softened by time there will be a lasting pride in the manly career which characterized his short life.

The Kansas City Journal says: "His ability as a reporter was rated high by all the newspaper men in the city, and the older men in the profession pronounced his prospects bright for a brilliant future He was original to a marked degree, and everything he wrote teemed with bright ideas. Among his fellow reporters he had the reputation of a tireless, faithful worker. His character was, indeed, an admirable one, and in his work he was always guided by lofty principles. There is not one among the men who make the daily newspapers of the city that does not regret his death with the deepest and most sincere sorrow."

The Kansas City Times says: "Mr. Bond was one of the brighest and best reporters in the city. He was always reliable and always a gentleman. A good news gatherer, without being offensively obtrusive, he was admired and respected alike by his associates and the people with whom he came in contact daily."

The Evening Post says: "One of the brightest members of the profession has written 'finished' to his last assignment on the books of life. William DeGroff Bond is dead. He had not yet turned the twenty-first mile stone in life's journey, and yet he had made a name for himself. He was one of natures gentlemen. What more could be said? Gentle, modest, generous, honest, manly, these were his traits, and he is dead."

Members of the Kansas City press united in a beautiful floral emblem which was sent with the body to Indiana. The following newspaper men were chosen pall bearers: Fred G. Fox and Charles N. Harwood, of the News; Frank Hills and Ralph E. Stout, of the Journal; Frank G. Graham and Thomas Bell, of the Times, and Richard S. Slater and Charles A. Bowman, of the Star. Mr. George Randall, of the Star, an intimate friend of the dead boy, went to Fort Wayne with the remains.

THEY DID IT.

What? Cured among others the following. They write:

OUR NEW PASTORS.

Rev. R. M. Barnes at Wayne Street and Rev. J. C. Cook at the Trinity M. E. Church.

Yesterday was the first Sunday of the new conference year for the Methodists, and as a consequence, all their churches in this city were well attended. The old pastors, Revs. D. C. Woolpert, C. H. Wilkinson and M. C. Cooper, who were returned by the Wabash conference for another year, were pleasantly and warmly greeted and preached stirring sermons from their pulpits, both in the morning and evening.

Rev. R. M. Barnes and Rev. J. C. Cook, the new pastors, appeared before their congregations for the first time. There is always a pardonable curiosity on the part of Methodist congregations to see and hear the new pastors which the conference, in their wisdom, see fit to send them, and sharing in this spirit yesterday, THE SENTINEL'S religious reporter conquered his wanted-to-stay-at-home proclivities and worshiped in the morning and evening respectively at the Trinity and Wayne Street churches.

The Trinity M. E. church was crowded in the morning to hear the new pastor, Rev. J. C. Cook. He is an earnest and interesting talker, and preached a practical sermon on the duty of the pew to unite with the pulpit in Christian work.

He said the strength of the church was not in the pulpit, but in the earnest Christian work of the individual members of the congregation. They should lend a helping hand and aid the minister in his holy calling. This was their duty and if it was performed, even a weak and humble servant of God might be made powerful for good in the ministry. He should not be idle in the Master's cause. His time would be devoted to the gospel work, and while he came as a stranger among them, he hoped time and an acquaintance would increase his opportunities for doing good. Rev. Cook is an interesting speaker and the church in Bloomingdale promises to thrive wonderfully under the ministerial charge of this brilliant young divine.

Rev. R. M. Barnes, D. D., preached his first sermon in the morning at the Wayne street M. E. church, and in the evening he addressed a large congregation upon the subject "Nature and Grace," illustrating, forcibly, the power and effect of the gospel of Christ upon a naturally sinful heart. It was an able effort of the distinguished divine, full of magnificent thought and delivered in a manner that carried conviction to his hearers.

Dr. Barnes is a magnificent pulpit orator. Scholarly in thought, elegant in language, earnest and eloquent in delivery, his polished words and sentences fall with a charm and force that did not fail to claim attention and interest the audience until the close. He is a wonderfully earnest speaker. He says he believes in a live religion and a live church, and he undoubtedly preaches a live sermon. Dr. Barnes was for three years the pastor of one of the largest M. E. churches of Kansas City, and has been very successful in his ministerial work. The congregation of the Wayne street church are well pleased with their new pastor. His sermons yesterday were the subject of much favorable comment and the flourishing congregation are to be congratulated upon having obtained such an eloquent and eminent pulpit orator.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, used vigorously is death to Swinney, Wind Galls, Sore Backs.

MRS. JOHN BIGELOW, the wife of Tilden's trusted friend, is a great matchmaker. So much so that the marriageable men of her acquaintance are apt to be a bit shy of her, well as they generally like her. There are men that she has been struggling to land in matrimony for twenty years, and against whom she this season marshals her sorces of pretty girls undismayed and undiscouraged.

EX-SENATOR FAIR has offered $10,000 for the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, for one evening during the Booth-Barrett engagement in order that he may have an exclusive theater party. When Mr. Fair was in the Senate he gave a "rosebud party" to twenty young ladies at a cost of $1,000. The next morning he quarreled with a hackman who wanted to charge him fifty cents for a ride to the Capitol.

MARY HOWITT, the authoress, died a Catholic, although she was buried beside her husband in the English Protestant Cemetery at Rome. She had gone to Rome in order to be present at the Papal jubilee ceremonies. She was received by the Pope as the first of the English deputation, and after her death the Pope remembered her in his mass. She did not become a Catholic until after the death of her husband, and in thus doing so followed the example of her daughter.

MRS. BRECKINRIDGE, wife of Congressman Breckinridge, of Kentucky, was in her younger days a noted Blue Grass belle, and though she is the mother of grown daughters she retains much of her youthful charms, and is altogether a very lovable woman. Her eyes are large, brown, and humid, her thick hair is drawn carelessly back from a white forehead, over which falls a few short wavy locks, and the pallor of her complexion is accentuated by the severely simple black she usually wears. She is a matter-of-fact woman of great good sense, and has no sympathy with the movement to secure suffrage for women.

THE coasts of Lower California abound with huge turtles which weigh from 300 to 400 pounds each. Down at Punta Banda, where a company is building a big hotel, one of the workmen, who is an expert swimmer and spends much time in the water, has become skillful in riding the big animals. A traveler says that when the man sees one that is big enough to ride he rushes into the water and mounts it. He has a way of slapping the turtles on the side of the head that makes them jog along, and, by striking them, he also guides them. He rode a big fellow near the shore the other day as the stage drove up the coast road and the occupants of the stage were so pleased with the exhibition that they made up a purse of $20 for the rider.

DR. R. W. SHUFELDT suggests to ornithologists that they may find portable photographic outfits of advantage in their studies. He finds that by the use of the instantaneous shutter, birds may be photographed in nearly all of their positions. "Out here on the prairie we will often find an old stump or stalk upon which a dozen or fifteen species of birds will alight during seven or eight hours on almost any day suitable to use the camera upon them. Now, all we have to do is to properly set our instrument near this point, conceal it in such a way as not to alarm the birds, focus it sharply upon the perch where they alight, place on your 'snap shutter,' and fix it with a string and then remove yourself far enough away to pull it when you have a subject sitting to your liking. Birds that you have wounded but slightly may be photographed under the most favorable circumstances; they may also be taken sitting on their nests; in actual flight, however swift, in pursuit of their food; in leading about their young; indeed, the list is almost an endless one. Rookeries also offer admirable subjects, and a splendid field is open at those wonderful resorts of water-birds in such places as the Bahamas or the Alaskan coast."

CHARLES G. LELAND, famous twenty-five years ago for his translation of Heine and his Hans Breitmann ballads, is still living in London, and is engaged in compiling a dictionary of American phrases, sayings, and slang. He asks especially for the origin of "Let her go, Gallagher," and any kind of eccentric expression that is really American.

ROSS THOMPSON, son of the Washington banker, has invented an electric carriage-lamp. The battery, which is a seven-cell one, is located under the driver's seat and the lamps are ordinary pear-shaped globes with reflectors. The light is as bright as a street light and it makes the avenue in front of it as bright as day. The arrangements is such that the turning of a screw by the coachman turns the light off or on, and it can be diminished or increased at pleasure.

IN an article in a late number of the Woman's World the following pleasing description is given of Dinah Mulock Craik: "In appearance Mrs. Craik was of medium height, with soft, gray hair, benign gray eyes, a small mouth, with a kindly placid expression. By nature she was active and cheerful, not lacking in humor, courteous and kindly to all; an interesting conversationalist, possessing the somewhat rarely accompanying quality of being a listener; a woman instinctively to be trusted; to the end young at heart and the confidant of young people."

A SAN FRANCISCO young man, learning that two of his young lady friends were alone at home one evening, assumed the character of a ghost to frighten them and began to make mysterious noises about the house. The girls took him for a burglar and not a ghost, and one of them leaped the fence and notified a stalwart neighbor. The latter seized an iron poker and charged upon the young ghost and with a terrific blow cracked his skull in a new place. Three doctors are now trying to prevent the young man's attempt to be a ghost being crowned with complete success.

MR. ROBERT HUGH MILLS, in a recent lecture, called attention to the fact that the cultivation of madder has been almost destroyed by the chemical discovery that its identical coloring matter can be cheaply produced from coal tar. The production of indigo is also threatened by an artificial product which the chemists have discovered. A while ago it was found that the cinchona tree could be profitably planted in India, and a fine new field of industry was believed to have opened for the farmers of that country. Scores of chemists, however, have been at work on the synthesis of quinine, and their

PETER ALFRED ANDERSON, of Terre Haute, claims to be the "world's champion water-drinker." He thinks it no feat at all, scarcely, to drink half a gallon in fifty seconds, and has drunk five gallons in five hours, and thirty gallons in a day, which exceeds the capacity of any horse. His appetite keeps up with his thirst pretty well, for he can sit down and eat as much as can ten men, without experiencing inconvenience. He says that some time ago he was in Chicago, and strolled into a restaurant and made a bargain with the proprietor for as much as he wanted to eat, agreeing to pay 50 cents. After he had eaten as much as it would bother half a dozen men to make away with and had called for more, the proprietor became alarmed and offered to repay him his money and to give him $1 to quit, which proposition he accepted. Anderson says he has been examined by a number of physicians, all of whom told him that he has a double stomach. In view of the eating and drinking feats he performs, the statements of the physicians seem to be drawn very mildly.

HARRISON H. RIDDLEBERGER is one of the rarest features in the Senate. Tall, straight, and not bad-looking, he has a long, thin face, which grows florid during certain periods when his blood flows the fastest. He has a high, full forehead, and his brown hair, which is thinning rapidly at the crown, is combed well back, and is generally kept well dressed. He has a long, scraggy, brown beard, and his eyes are bluish-gray. These eyes look straight at his brother Senators when he attacks them, and Riddleberger's enemies say that he chooses his methods of bulldozing and fantastic speaking in the Senate in order to attract attention to himself. He certainly does attract attention, and he is one of the sights from the Senatorial galleries. He wears dark clothes, and his frock coat, usually buttoned, save at the top, there bulges out, giving him the appearance of having a sixty-inch chest. He has good lung-power, and he lives well. He seems to have no personal friends in the Senate, and complained not long ago that he had been insulted by his fellow-Senators, and that he was cut on the street by them. He refused, it is said, invitations to state dinners at the White House, and once declined to go to a dinner party at Senator Palmer's because he had no dress-coat and was too poor to buy one.

CAPTAIN JOHN CASHNER, an old resident of the Black Hills of Dakota, relates many interesting episodes of his early life there, but perhaps the most interesting of all was his story of the stone found at Spearhead, near Deadwood, upon which is inscribed the history of the earliest penetration of white men into the hills, written in a hand trembling with the weakness of death itself, by the last survivor of that fated expedition. This stone, irregular in shape, and about ten inches by eight in size, was found March 15, 1887, by Lewis Thorne, a stone-mason of Spearfish. It was found accidentally, carefully concealed under a larger stone, and so placed as to be protected from the elements. Upon one side, traced in trembling lines, but still legible, are the words: "Came to these hills in 1833 seven of us De Lacompt Ezra Kind G W Wood T Brown R Kent Wm King Indian crow all ded but me Ezra Kind Killed by Inds beyond the high hill got our gold June 1834." On the other side was written: "Got all of the gold we could carry our pony all got by the Indians I have lost my gun and nothing to eat and Indians hunting me." "The traditions of the Indians," says Captain Cashner, "bear out the story of this stone. William Gay, an old scout and hunter in the hills, has got the same story from the Sioux Indians They tell of a band from their tribe who were out hunting one day and found the waters of the Whitewood, the stream which runs through Deadwood, muddied, as they supposed, by beavers. They followed up the stream to find the game, and came upon this party of gold hunters. According to the traditions of the Indians, a large party were on their way West, across the plains, when some of them became dissatisfied and branched off into the Black Hills. The rest of the party has never, that I know of, been heard from. The Indians, finding this little band at work, swept down on them, and took their gold and their lives, Kind being the only one who escaped." Captain Cashner says that since this information came into his possession he has endeavored to find some trace of the history of these early explorers, and I have received a letter from a man in Troy, Mo., who states that his uncle, Thomas Brown, accompanied by a man named Richard Kent, joined a large party of gold hunters in 1835 and went West, but that nothing has ever been heard of them since.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. ry it this season.

THOMAS F. BAYARD is the only living man who was balloted for in the St. Louis convention in 1876. Tilden, Hendricks, Allen, Hancock, and Parker, all of whom had enthusiastic supporters for the nomination, are dead, and John Kelley and John Morrissey, who were prominent figures at the convention, have followed their chiefs.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins by grocers, labeled thus: JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

Mr. W. W. Rockhill returned from St. Louis Springs Saturday and is looking much better, although his health is still poorly. Mr. Rockhill will now remain in the city.

Rev. J. M. Fulton, Rev. D. S. Kennedy and Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat left today for Elkhart, to attend the Presbytery of Northern Indiana, which is in session there this week.

Mr. E. E. Clark, a special pension inspector, arrived in the city to-day, and will make his headquarters here, succeeding Mr. Hovey. Mr. Clark is a very pleasant gentleman.

The grand commandery of Knight Templars will hold its thirty-fourth annual conclave at Masonic hall, Indianapolis, commencing Tuesday, April 24th, 1888. The headquarters will be at the Grand hotel.

A contested election case in Shelby county brings out the fact that the statutes of 1883 make it a penal offense for any person to vote for a road supervisor unless he is residing in his district. In the recent township election persons voted in every township for supervisors residing in other road districts than their own.

The Muncie Times says: "Mr. S. A. Wikel, general freight and passenger agent of the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad, informs the Times that he is making every effort to arrange for the departure of the train bearing the congressional delegation to Rushville on the 19th at an earlier hour than that advertised—10 o'clock."

The association of Congregational churches of northern Indiana will convene at Elkhart to-morrow evening, in semi-annual session. The state association of the Congregational church will convene at Michigan City in annual session May 6th to 11th inclusive. It will be the largest gathering ever held by the organization in the state. The Ladies' Mission board, both home and foreign, will meet at the same time and place.

The law of the state makes it obligatory on persons owning dams on streams in this state to construct fish ladders by which fish are able to reach the source of the streams or shallow water during the spawning season. It is the duty of the trustee to see that owners of dams construct these ladders. The fact that fishing is becoming very poor above such obstructions in streams has become a source of much annoyance to persons who like to fish occasionally and when they do not capture larger game than minnows or sun fish. There is a movement on foot to enforce the law on this question, which if done will make the fishing all along the streams very much better.

Mr. H. G. Olds returned from the east this morning.

Lindenwood cemetery was open to visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Nelson are guests of the Hamilton house.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Terveer, of Decatur, were guests, of L. J. Bobilya over Sunday.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monok, who died Saturday was buried to-day.

Mr. W. B. Beamer, of the Wabash road, is in the city, having arrived on the early train.

Last evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, on Hoffman street, was celebrated the marriage of Miss Mary Peppers, a pretty and charming girl, and Mr. William Rudolph, jr., night pressman at the Journal office. The young people have many friends and they wish them joy and prosperity for a long life.

From the Cathedral pulpit yesterday Vicar General Brammer pronounced excommunication against Cornelius Graney and his wife, nee Ellen A'Hern. The young people are first cousins and were married outside the church. They can never be reconciled as man and wife, as the church forbids marriage between second cousins.

On Friday evening last, Joe Woods, as jolly a lad as ever pulled a locomotive throttle, celebrated the twenty-eighth anniversary of his birth, at his hospitable home, on Wilt street. A large number of Nickel Plate engineers and their ladiers were present. Plates were set for fifty guests and a royal feast was served. Dancing to the strains of Spiegel's orchestra followed the supper and it was kept up until a late hour in the morning.

The Evangelical conference was in session at Decatur, Ind., last week and several of the ministers were stopping with Thomas Archibald. One night burglars entered Mr. Archibald's house and stole three of the ministers' overcoats. They cut the slate off the shutters, and with a chisel pried up the window and made their entrance. The house of Frank Farrell was also burglarized and $10 in cash taken. The supposition is that home talent did the work.

The following story is told of Miss Ellsler, who is soon to appear at the Temple: At the age of thirteen she was called from school in Cleveland to give leading support to Edwin Forrest; a year later she played Ophelie to Barry Sullivan's Hamlet. It is related that during the mad scene Miss Ellsler lost herself in the part and began shedding real tears, which interfered to some extent with her voice; when the curtain fell Sullivan said to her: "My little girl, those tears are professional pearls, worth hundreds of pounds each; let them flow but control your voice." She still weeps real tears, but her voice never leaves her.

GEORGE LAIBLE.

A Fort Wayne Boy Detected in Forgeries at Logansport—Driven to it by Want.

The Logansport Journal has this sensational news:

Logansport furnishes another to her already long list of forgers, and he will probably soon be doing service for the commonwealth, with headquarters at Michigan City. George Laible is his name.

On March 15, Laible went to George B. Forgy, the real estate and loan agent, and asked him if he would loan him $25 with Gust Bergman on his note. Mr. Forgy said he would and so drew a note of usual form for $37.50, with interest at eight per cent., payable in thirty days at the State National bank. Laible took the note and left the office. He returned in a short time with his own and the name of Gust Bergman attached to the note. Mr. Forgy gave him $25 and he went away.

Nothing more was thought by Mr. Forgy about the matter until yesterday, when Laible come to his office and wanted to borrow fifty dollars, offering to give Bergman as security again. A note for $85.50 was drawn and returned signed as before. Mr. Forgy was now suspicious, and made pretense to go out for the money. He sent a note of inquiry to Mr. Bergman, who replied that he had not gone George's security on any note and would not. Officers were notified and the foolhardy young man was put under arrest. Before 'Squire Fender he waived examination and was bound over to court in the sum of $500, and failing to give the same he was sent to jail.

Laible is 22 years of age, is unmarried and is a brother-in-law of Bergman, whose name he was to handy with. He was for a time at work in the boiler department of the Pan Handle shops, but was discharged about the first of March. He came here from Fort Wayne, where his people live.

When asked what induced him to commit the crime he said he was driven to it. That he was out of work, could find nothing to do and had to have money. He said he thought he could get the money that way without anybody finding it out. He expressed himself as being very sorry for having done the crime, but did not give much evidence of being badly "broken up" over the prospect of the penitentiary. He will probably plead guilty before the court, and Mr. Forgy will ask for the leniency of the court and a light sentence.

TOOK IT IN.

The Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light Company Makes a Purchase.

The Logansport Pharos says:

The suit of the Fort Wayne Jenney electric light company against the Logansport Jenney company, asking for the appointment of a receiver, has been compromised and dismissed under circumstances that seem best for all concerned. The Fort Wayne company purchases William Dolan's entire interest for $10,200 cash, thus becoming a heavy stockholder. Following the compromise and sale, the company has been re-organized by electing the following directors: A. R. Shroyer, Joseph Seiter, Victor Seiter and P. W. Moore, of Logansport, and R. T. McDonald, C. W. Smith and P. A. Randall, of Fort Wayne. The directors have selected Mr. Victor Seiter as manager, secretary and treasurer, who will have entire charge of the plant. His selection is a guarantee that the business under his charge will be faithfully and acceptably cared for. The newly organized company will at once proceed to thoroughly overhaul the Logansport plant. Necessary new machinery will be supplied as well as new lamps. The lines will be overhauled, street lamps raised, and every change made that will improve the plant. The company will also put in the incandescent system, furnishing lights at something like one cent per hour per lamp.

Colds on the Nervous System.

Cold is not the only factor in the production of catarrh. There is a collateral cause, and a most important one, in certain depressed conditions of the nervous system, which is too little known and appreciated. In healthy conditions of the nervous system, provided reasonable precautions are taken against cold, there is enough vitality in the organism to resist its injurious influence. The nervous system is, in fact, the guardian, controller, the prime regulator of animal heat or body temperature, and its slightest failure to fulfill its responsibile duties—the least relaxation of its constant vigilance—renders us liable to fall a prey to cold.

The following suppositious case will afford an illustration: An individual who habitually drives about in an open conveyance with perfect freedom from catarrh, happens on one occasion to fall asleep when he is out, and the very next day has a cold. The explanation of the phenomenon is to be found in the fact that during sleep nervous energy is lowered and the system, therefore, less able to withstand the injurious effects of cold. If we assume that the individual was also in a state of intoxication at the time, the damage done by cold would be more serious, as the depression of alcohol is superadded to that of sleep. It is therefore, not surprising to find that inflammation of the lungs is frequently contracted under such circumstances. We instinctively acknowledge the nervous depression during sleep by taking the precaution to throw a rug over the knees before our forty winks on the dining-room sofa.

A timid woman comes home one night pale and ghastly with fright, having encountered a specter clad in white, which she calls a "ghost." In a day or two she develops a cold, for which she cannot in any way account. Fear acts as a depressant to the nervous system, crippling its powers of resisting the action of cold; hence the phrase, "shivering with fear." Similarly innumerable events of daily life tend to irritate, depress, or excite the nerves, and render them unfit for maintaining the body-temperature against the fluctuations of weather and climate. During these unguarded moments a trifling exposure to cold or damp is sufficient to induce catarrh. It is known that stout boots, umbrellas, and wraps, though excellent preservatives, in their way, are not by any means the only precautionary measures to be adopted; that we must endeavor to strengthen the nervous system, if it be defective and that, when we are compelled to expose ourselves to cold or wet when the nerves are depressed from temporary causes, such as fatigue, anxiety, grief, worry, fear, dyspepsia, or ill-humor, we should be specially careful to guard against cold. — Chamber's Journal.

Influence of Valleys on Health.

Mr. Alfred Haviland lately informed the London Social Science Association that many diseases were induced by the common tendency to place houses in valleys instead of on hillsides. He says that valleys do not get a full share of fresh air. The wind blows over, not through them, and the atmosphere within their boundaries is comparatively stagnant. His observations are therefore opposed to the common belief that valleys are especial channels for atmospheric movements; but his opinions are sustained by Dr. B. W. Richardson, who is good authority. The latter gentleman enumerated twenty-five or thirty diseases which he thought might be attributed to the propensity for valley homes. Among them are croup, influenza, scrofula, rheumatism, fistula, calculus, and possibly some malformations. The list is formidable, and to put it mildly, it is almost incredible that diseases of this character can be caused by living in the broad and shallow valleys of England. Mr. Haviland's remarks were illustrated by maps and models showing the geological structure of the earth.—The Galaxy.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

COMPANY.

WANTED.—A position at office work by a young man of ability. Address "E," this office.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Judge Allen Zollars returned to Indianapolis to-day.

Col. R. S. Robertson went to Indianapolis last night.

Catherine, daughter of Conrad Becker, was buried yesterday.

Travel is picking up on the railroads and hotel business is looking up.

J. S. Tyler and H. Clay, of this city, have been granted army pensions.

A child of Belle Arnold, an inmate of the county asylum, was buried yesterday.

Mr. Jake Kelley, of Root & Co's. store, is quite ill at the home of Esquire Ryan.

J. D. Alliger, the pleasant editor of the Monroeville Breeze, made us a call to-day.

J. B. Maynard, Nebraska, and J. E. Kingsley, Toledo, are at the Aveline house.

Supt. W. H. Canniff, of the Lake Shore road, is a guest of the Wayne hotel.

A clerk for Beaverforden, the druggist, was arrested to-day for selling liquor on Sunday.

The eleven year old daughter of Mrs. Perrett, janitress of the Hanna street school, died this morning.

Charles Catterlin and Fannie B. Ogden, Wm. Rudolph, jr., and Mary Peppers, Wm. Borman and Clara Belle Nail have been licensed to wed.

Wm. Thyan, of 100 Force street, died yesterday, aged fifty-one years. Funeral to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Peter's Catholic church.

Mr. S. W. Dodge has given up the idea of managing the Spring Beach hotel, at Rome City, and is now a regular chair car conductor on the Grand Rapids road.

Mr. Campbell, the day clerk at the Wayne hotel, has resigned his position, and it is said with Will Burleigh, the billiard expert, will open a house of call in this city.

The case of Hannah Flock vs. Bernhard Borkenstein, has been appealed to Judge O'Rourke from Justice Harding. R. S. Robertson and Worden and Morris are attorneys.

Mrs. Moore, wife of an employ of the Pittsburg freight house, died this morning of pneumonia, aged 47 years. Her remains will be shipped to Bourbon tomorrow for burial.

The Indianapolis Journal says: Harry Crawford, as soon as he gets a little leisure, will turn his attention to extending the Indiana Midland to Fort Wayne. He expresses the opinion that with their road through to that point they could find a market in that territory for all the coal they produce from the mines which are opened or likely to be for some years.

Miss Alice Genevra Von Swearingen, who is now in Cincinnati receiving instructions in piano music from Prof. John S. Van Cleve, is, it is said, making very rapid advancement in her studies. In the past few weeks she has mastered thirteen "Etudes" of Heller, two "songs without words" of Mendelssohn (difficult), two "waltzes," and two "impromptus" of Chopin, and also a movement from Clementi. Professor Van Cleve gives a grand concert on Thursday evening, May 10th, and Miss Alice is down on the program for a "nocturne" of her own composition, Chopin's "impromptu" in a flat, and other selections. The many friends of Miss Swearingen will be glad to learn of her success.

THE PENSION BILL.

The House Committee Will Report Favorably on the Dependent Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The house committee on invalid pensions this morning took final action upon the senate bill known as the dependent pension bill. Some verbal amendments were made to the first section, relating to the claims of dependent parents, but none of them materially changed the effect of the section. A substitute was adopted for the second section, which is the principal section of the bill.

The substitute provides a pension for all persons who have served in the military or naval service of the United States for any period, and who have been honorably discharged, and who are now or may hereafter be suffering from mental or physical disability, not the result of their own vicious habits, which to-day disables them from the performance of manual labor, at the rate per month of one cent for every day's war services.

It further provides the same pension for all persons who are sixty-two years of age, or who may hereafter become sixty-two years of age during their natural life.

Section three was amended so as to provide that when the widow of a soldier is in a condition of dependence or suffering from any disability, recognized by the general pension laws, or is sixty-two years of age, she shall be placed upon the pension roll the same as her husband would receive.

The fourth section was amended so as to make attorneys fees $5 instead of $10. The element of dependency placed in the grand army bill by the senate, was eliminated, so that all soldiers are to be pensioned for their services equally, without regard to their financial condition and according to the per diem idea.

The amendments were adopted by a strict party vote, republicans favoring the provisions of the senate bill, so that the amended bill may be regarded as embodying the democratic policy in the matter of pension legislation.

A Marine Invention.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Wilhelm Weisel, the second officer of the steamship Werra, of North German Lloyd, has invented an oil rocket that throws oil over a very large area. The rocket may be exploded under water, the oil, being lighter, naturally rising to the surface. Interesting experiments have been made, proving the practical value of the invention. The rockets have been used in this port in the way of an experiment, and will, it is said, be of great value to the life saving corps among the coasts in calming water along the shore and aiding vessels in distress.

Canada's Opinion.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Erastus Wiman says the vote at Ottawa might be regarded as a crushing defeat if it had any significance whatever as representing the true sentiment of the people of Canada on the question of the enlarged relations with the United States. He says since parliament was elected new light has been received by the people and a general election would now produce a different result.

Death of Mrs. Marx Graff.

Died, this morning at 3 o'clock, at Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. Marx Graff, an old resident of this city, the mother of Myer L. Graff and a large family and is well known here. The burial will take place here and will be announced later.

Failures.

CINCINNATI, O., March 9.—The Lomas Bridge and Forge company assigned today to Charles Anderson. Liabilities $50,000; assets $75,000. The company claims that the embarrassment is only temporary.

Assassins at Lafayette.

Special to the Sentinel.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 9.—Saturday night an unknown assassin attempted to shoot Fred Kloos, at the gate of his home in this city.

Fatal Fight at Wabash.

WABASH, Ind., April 9.—Ben Walma was fatally injured Saturday at Peru. He was attacked by Oscar Zephie and Will Brenning, who broke a chair over the unfortunate man's body, fracturing several ribs and producing severe internal injuries. The three men quarrelled over a trival matter. Zephie and Brenning are in jail, and will have a hearing to-day.

PRINCE BISMARCK

Withdraws His Opposition to Alexander's Marriage and will not Resign—Boulanger's Victory in France.

PARIS, April 9.—In the election yesterday to fill the vacancy in the chamber of deputies from the department of Dordogne, General Boulanger was chosen.

BERLIN, April 9.—Prince Alexander, of Battenburg, comes to Charlottenberg next Thursday, and his betrothal to Princess Victoria takes place early in June. Prince Bismarck has withdrawn his resignation solely from a consideration that the domination of the Empress Victoria would speedily lead to a break up of German unity.

It is stated to-day that Prince Bismarck has abandoned his opposition to the marriage of Prince Alexander, of Battenberg, and Princess Victoria, having gained certain other concessions. All the differences between the emperor and Prince Bismarck are now settled.

Empress Victoria and Princesses Victoria, Sophie and Margaret have started for Posen to inquire as to the condition of the sufferers by the floods.

TANGIER, April 9.—An agreement was signed to-day by the Moorish minister of foreign affairs and Mr. Lewis, the American consul, referring the dispute between the United States and Morocco to arbitration.

DUBLIN, April 9.—Proclaimed meetings were held all over Ireland yesterday. The police interfered and many persons were injured.

Roscoe Conkling Worse.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Roscoe Conkling's condition changed much for the worse last night. Dr. Fordyce Barker said to-day it was an affection of the brain, which is likely to prove fatal. Drs. Agnew and Barker will visit the patient this afternoon.

At 2:30 p. m. Mr. Conkling's condition was unchanged from the last report. Dr. Barker, at the conclusion of the conference, said the patient's condition is very unpromising and that he was suffering from inflammation of the eye, which had extended to the membranes of the brain. The probabilities were that Mr. Conkling would not recover, though there was a possibility that he might get well.

SCHOOL BURNED.

The State Normal School at Terre Haute Burns and 800 Pupils Escape With Their Lives.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 9.—A fire caught in the Mansard roof of the State Normal school a little before nine this morning. Eight hundred pupils were in the building, 175 of whom were small children in training school. All got out in safety, with a portion only of their books and wraps however. In pursuance of the policy of the state there was no insurance on the structure.

It cost $189,000, of which the City of Terre Haute gave $50,000, in addition to the grounds.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 9.—The state normal school was burned to the ground this morning. No loss of life, and not a dollar of insurance.

A GREAT LOSS.

A Portion of the Jenney Electric Light Works to be Removed to Plymouth.

It is authoritatively stated that the Jenney electric light company will transfer the main portion of their Fort Wayne plant to Plymouth, Ind., at once.

The Plymouth people give them a bonus of $15,600, with shop sites, and subscribe $150,000 to the capital stock of the company.

The Plymouth syndicate paid over $5,000 Saturday to bind the bargain and it can be regarded as settled.

The arc or street light branch of the works are to go from us, leaving in Fort Wayne only the incandescent light manufactory.

This will take 100 or 200 men from Fort Wayne and is a severe loss.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Wheat, steady, 72½c. Corn, steady, 48½c. Oats, steady, May, 30¼. Rye, steady; May 60c. Prime timothy, $2.62@2.68. Flaxseed, $1.45. Whisky, $1.15. Pork, firmer; $13.87½. Lard, steady, $7.50 May short ribs, $7.05@7.07½.

The republican convention at Bloomington, Ind., Saturday, indorsed Colonel Robertson, of this city, for governor.

STILL A DEAD LOCK.

The House Commences its Sixth Day of the Great Contest Over the Direct Tax Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The demand for regular order, from Reed, of Maine, opened the sixth days' contest over the direct tax bill, when the house met this morning. Breckenridge, of Arkansas, and Weaver, of Iowa, made dilitory motions.

The house committee on Elections will make a unanimous report in the Frank-Glover contest favorable to the sitting member. This, it is said, will be offset by the report in the California contest favorably to the republican contestant.

Illinois men who appear to be fortified with inside information express great confidence that Judge John Scholfield, one of the justices of the supreme court of Illinois, will be nominated by the president for chief justice of the supreme court of the United States.

AN OLEOMARGARINE CASE.

The supreme court of the United States to-day rendered an opinion in the case from Pennsylvania, commonly known as the "Oleomargarine Case," affirming the judgment of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, sustaining the validity of the statute of that commonwealth making it unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell or offer for sale, any butter or cheese or any article designed to take the place of these articles, produced from any compound other than unadulturated milk and cream.

Until 2:30 o'clock the clerk continued to call the roll upon the various motions submitted. Then the house found itself without a quorum, and Mr. Weaver moved an adjournment. The motion was defeated; yeas, 151; nays, eighty; There was particularly no change in the relative strength. The call of the house was then ordered.

SIGHT SERMONS.

By Rev. S. A. Northrop to the Young Men of the City on Practical Subjects.

The sermon delivered by Rev. Northrop yesterday morning at the Baptist church, on "Kind Words," was a practical one and delivered with the eloquent pastor's usual force and power. There are few ministers more active and zealous in gospel work than Pastor Northrop. Many of his sermons are directed to the young people of the church and he announced yesterday, that, beginning with Sunday evening, May 6, he would deliver a series of eight sermons to young men on "The Causes and Condition of Success in Life." The following are the subjects, which will be treated in the order given:

"The Cradle, or Where to be Born."

"The School Days, or Fitting for a Career."

"The Dawn of Destiny, or Choosing a Life Work."

"The Apprenticeship, or the Way of Promotion."

"The Fireside, or the Blessings of a Good Wife."

"The Bank Book, or Some Stepping Stones to Success."

"The Church Pew, or the Place of Religion in a True Life."

"The Commercial Records, or Why do so Many Men Fail."

Over fifty business men of Fort Wayne have given their experience with a view to the illustration of these sermons.

REV. A. E. MAHIN.

Kind Words for the Presiding Elder of the Fort Wayne District.

The Wabash Plain-Dealer says:

Rev. A. E. Mahin, of the M. E. church, has resided in Wabash only two years, but in that period he has become enshrined in the hearts of his congregation as one of the most devoted Christians who ever occupied a pulpit.

Rev. Mahin is one of the most profound thinkers, clearest reasoners and forcible orators, the conference has ever sent here, and while his friends rejoice at his elevation to the eldership of the Fort Wayne district, his removal from their midst causes widespread sorrow and regret, and many were the tears shed upon the announcement of his appointment to an eldership being made. Rev. Mahin and his family go to Fort Wayne followed with the sincerest wishes of the members of the Methodist Episcopal church of Wabash, for their happiness and prosperity, and while Wabash losses one of the best ministers and citizens it has ever had, there is some consolation in knowing that Fort Wayne gains one. Rev. Mahin will deliver his farewell sermon Sunday night.

WESTERN FLOODS.

The Rains in Minnesota Cause the Greatest Floods Known Since Its Settlement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9—Indiana, rain, followed by cooler, fair weather.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 9.—The Minnesota river broke over its banks yesterday and is flooding the bottom lands, east of the city, for miles.

AUBURN LAKE, Minn., April 9.—The rain storms of the last three days, together with the great thaws, have caused the greatest floods in the Fountain and Albert Lea lakes and the Shell Rock river known since the country was settled.

WATER WORKS RATES.

The Trustees Going to Prove They are Higher in Other Cities.

"The water works trustees are collecting statistics to show that water rents are cheaper in Fort Wayne than in most cities in the United States," said a well known attorney this morning.

"They expect in this way," continued he, "to tide over the injustice of levying exorbitant water rates when the law makes plain their duty and permits them to furnish water at almost its cost, if they only collect the department monies as the statutes provide they shall."

This will hardly appease the demand for cheap water in Fort Wayne. The consumers know just what it costs to pump every gallon of water, they know what they pay for it and what they get it for, so the argument that other cities are being robbed will scarcely meet the reasonable demands.

The cry is still for a fair and honest interpretation of the water works laws and if the trustees lent half the energy in this direction that they do in other directions we would have water at its actual cost and plenty of it.

CHEAP GAS.

A Hint That the Home Company Will Reduce its Schedule Price.

It is given out on pretty reliable authority that the Fort Wayne Gas Company has concluded to reduce the price of illuminating gas from $2 to $1.50 per thousand.

This is in the right direction, but we can stand more of it and THE SENTINEL will continue to agitate the matter until something is done. As it is, small favors are thankfully received.

THE WHEELMEN.

Their Fourth Annual Banquet This Evening.

This evening, at the Wayne hotel, the Fort Wayne bicycle club, will give its fourth annual banquet.

President McLain asks the members to respond at the club hall at 8 o'clock sharp.

Mr. Carl P. Swain will preside over the feast and below are the toasts of the evening:

"The Fort Wayne Bicycle Club"—Charles J. McLain.

"The City of Fort Wayne"—A. J. Moynihan.

"The Wheelman"—C. W. Edgerton.

"The Road Hog; We Despise Him"—P. C. Darrow.

"Our Right Upon the Road"—Chas. W. Kuhne.

"The Age of Wheels—August Detzer.

"The Small Boy—A Necessary Evil"—T. F. Thieme.

"A Bicycle"—Leroy Hartzler.

Notice to Taxpayers.

The office of the county treasurer will be open every evening, commencing with next Monday, until the 16th of April, for the payment of county taxes. Monday, April 16, is the last day for the payment of the first installment of county taxes.

ISAAC MOWERS,
County Treasurer.

Notice to the Public.

We have agreed with the other groceries to close our place of business at 7:30 each evening in the week, except Saturdays, and the 10th, 11th, 17th and 18th of each month.

The main object in this is that the employes as well as the employers will have more time for themselves in the evening and shorter hours of labor. We trust the people will sustain us in this movement by arranging to make their purchases as early as possible during the afternoon. Respectfully,

FRUIT HOUSE.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Dropped His Revolver and the Bullet Passes Through His Wife's Heart.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 9.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, of Las Vegas, came here yesterday. While they were walking along the street a revolver fell from Mr. Reynold's overcoat pocket. It struck on the hammer and was discharged. The ball entered Mrs. Reynold's body on her left side, ranged upward and passed directly through the heart, killing her instantly.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

Monday Boks Up as Usual With Nothing Startling Since We Saw You Last.

Railroad traffic is moving along with its old time activity.

Work is brisk around every department of the Olds works.

E. B. White, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has returned from his eastern trip.

The men in the moulding rooms of the Bass works were taking a day off today.

The train men of the Wabash have been notified to have their watches examined.

Adolph Wichman has taken a position in the Bass works and will learn the machinist trade.

The Pittsburg works are only turning out new locomotives at the rate of three every two months.

Thomas Sheppard, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, has returned to work again after an illness of over two months.

The Pittsburg machine shop was shut down for half an hour this morning on account of a hot box in the engine.

The Pittsburg shops received four engines for repairs last week. Three of them were repaired and have left the shops.

Mr. Barney Fitzpatrick, the general superintendent of the Pittsburg Machine shops, has been on the sick list for the last few days.

Agents of west-bound roads, at a meeting Friday in Buffalo, adopted a summer coal tariff basis of $2 to Chicago and $2.80 to St. Louis.

Martin Irons, the Napoleon of the great southwestern railroad strike of two years ago, is now conducting a peanut stand on a big scale at St. Louis.

Another conference of flint-glass manufacturers and workmen has been called for this week, when another attempt will be made to settle the strike. The conference was called by the manufacturers.

C. C. Dasler, of the Pittsburg machine shops, was driving his "high stepper" out in the country yesterday and viewed the prospective fruit crop. He reports wheat out on the St. Joe road as looking very bad.

Frank Fitzpatrick, of the Pittsburg machine shops, is expected to return from Chicago and Wanatah to-morrow, bringing back with him a new horse that he purchased at the latter place that can cover the road at the rate of 2:14½.

Wm. A. Baldwin, formerly general manager of the Pennsylvania's northwestern lines west of Pittsburg, has assumed the duties of vice president and general manager of the Rochester and Pittsburg road.

The passenger earnings of the Ohio, Indiana and Western road for the last two weeks have been the lightest in the history of the road. The troubles on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy seriously affected them.

The 1,000 mile tickets, at two cents a mile, are daily becoming more popular, and the more roads they cover the more popular will they become. On some Indianapolis lines fully 50 per cent. of the travel is on this class of tickets.

Most of the roads will put on their usual number of construction trains on Monday next, and begin gravelling road beds, filling up trestles, etc. There is a much better feeling regarding proposed improvement to road beds and equipments than a week ago.

J. H. Holbrook, of Shop Clerk Tom Tom Meeghan's office, has purchased a new horse and F. J. Rodabaugh is trembling with the fear that he will receive a challenge either from him or Frank Fitzpatrick. The boys in the Pittsburg shops are great lovers of fast horses.

There is no employment fraught with more danger than the life of the locomotive engineer. Standing at the throttle of his engine he faces death every moment of his trip. It is no place for a coward and such an occupation deserves good wages, so that brave and competent men may fill these responsible positions. THE SENTINEL is a friend of the Locomotive Engineer, and believes that the brotherhood as a class are skilled and competent mechanics.

The spring term of the Conservatory of Music begins on next Wednesday, April 11. Enrollment of pupils Monday and Tuesday. 7-3t

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists as the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late Thos. H. Powers, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. Hilton, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

MONDAY, APIL 9, 1888.

MR. MUNSON, MR. DOUGHERTY AND THE SENTINEL.

There are some things about Mr. Munson's candidacy for auditor of state, and THE SENTINEL'S relation thereto, that ought to be understood by the public and especially by democrats.

Mr. Munson had no opposition for the nomination when he voluntarily withdrew from the race. He would have had none had he remained on the track. He based his declination upon reasons which seemed to be sufficient. He wrote a letter to the Indianapolis Sentinel in which he declared that the condition of his partner's health and the demands of his private business would preclude the possibility of his making a canvass for the position. He expressly absolved all of his friends from any obligation to support him for an office, which he declared he could not accept, and left them free to transfer their support to any candidate who might commend himself to their favor.

THE SENTINEL supposed that Mr. Munson was acting in good faith in this matter. We believed that he withdrew for the reasons stated, that Mr. Lillie's health was too poor and the demands of his business too pressing to admit of his devoting several months to a political campaign. THE SENTINEL did not believe, what was freely charged, that Mr. Munson withdrew because he feared that Mr. Cleveland's position on the tariff question would lose the democrats the state, and that he "did not want to take any chances."

Immediately upon Mr. Munson's withdrawal he urged Hon. Hugh Dougherty to seek the nomination, and pledged that gentleman his earnest support. Only three days later, without personally consulting Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Munson announced himself as again a candidate. Whether in the meantime Mr. Lillie's health had improved, or the business affairs of Lillie & Munson had changed their aspect, or the prospect for democratic success in Indiana had, in Mr. Munson's opinion, improved, we do not know. But certain it is that neither Mr. Munson nor any other man has any right to trifle with his friends and his party, as he did when he took himself off the track on Monday, urged another man to enter the field on Tuesday, and became a candidate again on Thursday.

Certainly Mr. Munson's strange course released all his friends from any obligation to support him when he renewed his candidacy. THE SENTINEL was under no obligation to do so, express or implied, but if it had been, the obligation was removed by Mr. Munson of his own volition. He has no right to complain because THE SENTINEL now supports Mr. Hugh Dougherty for the office. Mr. Dougherty is a clean man, an able man, an honest man; one who would add strength to the ticket and would fill the office with credit. Mr. Munson himself is pledged to support Mr. Dougherty—a pledge from which he has never been released.

Mr. Dougherty, we may add, never made a pledge of any kind, political or otherwise, that he did not carry out.

Pension legislation is handled too lightly in both houses of congress, and for this reason the task of weighing and ascertaining the justice of each claim rests with the president. The other day, for instance, the senate passed 527 pension bills in less than one hour and a half, giving to each measure a consideration of less than ten seconds. One of the bills gave a pension of $25 a month to Dr. Mary Walker, as a "late assistant surgeon in the United States army," another pensioned a soldier's "foster mother." We can hardly marvel at the vetoes on this sort of legislation.

THE water works trustees are now laboring to impress the people that because other cities levy high water rates the citizens of Fort Wayne ought to submit calmly to slighter extortions. What a pernicious idea of public service some people have.

FULL RETURNS of the Rhode Island election show that the republican candidate for governor has but a majority of 1,984. It was not an overwhelming republican victory, but it will do for Rhode Island.

AT Indianapolis the city does all the street sprinkling, and awards the work by contract. There appears to be much equity in this practice and it offers a suggestion to the Fort Wayne authorities.

CHEAP gas is a public necessity and must come. Further submission to the extortionate price levied by the Fort Wayne company is out of the question.

DEMOCRATIC prospects in Indiana brighten every day, and this is something when they were always good.

CHEAP water and cheap gas are the necessities of the hour.

The Remains of the Late W. D. G. Bond Arrive for Burial—Tributes From Kansas City.

Yesterday morning the remains of the late W. D. G. Bond arrived from Kansas City, accompanied by Mr. Henry Bond, the father, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nelson and Mr. Geo. Randalls. They were conveyed to the residence of Mr. S. B. Bond, in South Wayne.

Mrs. Bond, mother of the deceased, arrived from St. Louis, Mich., Saturday night, accompanied by Mr. W. W. Bookhill. She bears up well under the awful sorrow but is by no means well.

The funeral of Mr. Bond occurred this afternoon, Rev. W. N. Webbe officiating.

The press of this city sent a floral pillow as a token of their remembrance.

Tributes From the Kansas City Press.

The Kansas City Star says.

The death yesterday, after a brief illness, of William DeGroff Bond, a highly valued member of the Star's reportorial staff, brings a grief to family and friends which time alone can assuage, and calls for another tablet in local journalism which will be filled out with words of heartfelt praise. The memory of Willie Bond, as he was known to the friends of his childhood, is redolent with the perfumes of a sweet, gentle nature. He was an only child, loved and cherished by a mother and father as the very essence of their lives. But the tender care which followed him from the cradle, and a frail constitution which was his inheritance, did not prevent him from developing at an unusually early age a manliness of bearing and purpose which were the most marked traits of his character.

In the case of Willie Bond, there was a peacefulness in death which ought to bring all the consolation there is in faith and hope. The brief span of life he spent on this earth was without a single blot or stain, and when his friends gathered around the casket which contained his mortal remains they looked upon a sleeping boy, at rest and happy. All the misery connected with his death is left behind; all the sorrow he can carry into his grave is the possible knowledge that hearts are breaking at the parting. To those who mourn as they are mourning who are bowed down over the green memory of his bright, beautiful life, words are vain and empty. But when the acute pangs of grief shall be softened by time there will be a lasting pride in the manly career which characterised his short life.

The Kansas City Journal says: "His ability as a reporter was rated high by all the newspaper men in the city, and the older men in the profession pronounced his prospects bright for a brilliant future. He was original to a marked degree, and everything he wrote teemed with bright ideas. Among his fellow reporters he had the reputation of a tireless, faithful worker. His character was, indeed, an admirable one, and in his work he was always guided by lofty principles. There is not one among the men who make the daily newspapers of the city that does not regret his death with the deepest and most sincere sorrow."

The Kansas City Times says: "Mr. Bond was one of the brightest and best reporters in the city. He was always reliable and always a gentleman. A good news gatherer, without being offensively obtrusive, he was admired and respected alike by his associates and the people with whom he came in contact daily."

The Evening Post says: "One of the brightest members of the profession has written 'finished' to his last assignment on the books of life. William DeGroff Bond is dead. He had not yet turned the twenty-first milestone in life's journey, and yet he had made a name for himself. He was one of natures gentlemen. What more could be said? Gentle, modest, generous, honest, manly, these were his traits, and he is dead."

Members of the Kansas City press united in a beautiful floral emblem which was sent with the body to Indiana. The following newspaper men were chosen pall bearers: Fred G. Fox and Charles N. Harwood, of the News; Frank Hills and Ralph E. Stout, of the Journal; Frank G. Graham and Thomas Ball, of the Times, and Richard S. Slater and Charles A. Bowman, of the Star. Mr. George Randall, of the Star, an intimate friend of the dead boy, went to Fort Wayne with the remains.

OUR NEW PASTORS.

Rev. R. M. Barnes at Wayne Street and Rev. J. C. Cook at the Trinity M. E. Church.

Yesterday was the first Sunday of the new conference year for the Methodists, and as a consequence, all their churches in this city were well attended. The old pastors, Revs. D. C. Woolpert, C. H. Wilkinson and M. C. Cooper, who were returned by the Wabash conference for another year, were pleasantly and warmly greeted and preached stirring sermons from their pulpits, both in the morning and evening.

Rev. R. M. Barnes and Rev. J. C. Cook, the new pastors, appeared before their congregations for the first time. There is always a pardonable curiosity on the part of Methodist congregations to see and hear the new pastors which the conference, in their wisdom, see fit to send them, and sharing in this spirit yesterday, THE SENTINEL'S religious reporter conquered his wanted-to-stay-at-home proclivities and worshiped in the morning and evening respectively at the Trinity and Wayne Street churches.

The Trinity M. E. church was crowded in the morning to hear the new pastor, Rev. J. C. Cook. He is an earnest and interesting talker, and preached a practical sermon on the duty of the pew to unite with the pulpit in Christian work.

He said the strength of the church was not in the pulpit, but in the earnest Christian work of the individual members of the congregation. They should lend a helping hand and aid the minister in his holy calling. This was their duty and if it was performed even a weak and humble servant of God might be made powerful for good in the ministry. He should not be idle in the Master's cause. His time would be devoted to the gospel work, and while he came as a stranger among them, he hoped time and an acquaintance would increase his opportunities for doing good. Rev. Cook is an interesting speaker and the church in Bloomingdale promises to thrive wonderfully under the ministerial charge of this brilliant young divine.

Rev. R. M. Barnes, D. D., preached his first sermon in the morning at the Wayne street M. E. church, and in the evening he addressed a large congregation upon the subject "Nature and Grace," illustrating, forcibly, the power and effect of the gospel of Christ upon a naturally sinful heart. It was an able effort of the distinguished divine, full of magnificent thought and delivered in a manner that carried conviction to his hearers.

Dr. Barnes is a magnificent pulpit orator. Scholarly in thought, elegant in language, earnest and eloquent in delivery, his polished words and sentences fall with a charm and force that did not fail to claim attention and interest the audience until the close. He is a wonderfully earnest speaker. He says he believes in a live religion and a live church, and he undoubtedly preaches a live sermon. Dr. Barnes was for three years the pastor of one of the largest M. E. churches of Kansas City, and has been very successful in his ministerial work. The congregation of the Wayne street church are well pleased with their new pastor. His sermons yesterday were the subject of much favorable comment and the flourishing congregation are to be congratulated upon having obtained such an eloquent and eminent pulpit orator.

What you need is a medicine which is pure, efficient, reliable. Such is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It possesses peculiar curative powers.

A COMPOSITOR in Cassell's London printing establishment committed suicide recently after leaving the following note for his foreman: "Dear Mr. Skinner: Please excuse my leaving without a fortnight's notice, but I have received a peremptory summons to go to Heaven to set the title-page of the 'Book of Life.' Yours, H. G. S. Agnew."

CHARLES G. LELAND, famous twenty-five years ago for his translation of Heine and his Hans Breitmann ballads, is still living in London, and is engaged in compiling a dictionary of American phrases, sayings, and slang. He asks especially for the origin of "Let her go, Gallagher," and any kind of eccentric expression that is really American.

ROSS THOMPSON, son of the Washington banker, has invented an electric carriage-lamp. The battery, which is a seven-cell one, is located under the driver's seat and the lamps are ordinary pear-shaped globes with reflectors. The light is as bright as a street light and it makes the avenue in front of it as bright as day. The arrangements is such that the turning of a screw by the coachman turns the light off or on, and it can be diminished or increased at pleasure.

IN an article in a late number of the Woman's World the following pleasing description is given of Dinah Mulock Craik: "In appearance Mrs. Craik was of medium height, with soft, gray hair, benign gray eyes, a small mouth, with a kindly placid expression. By nature she was active and cheerful, not looking in humor, courteous and kindly to all; an interesting conversationalist, possessing the somewhat rarely accompanying quality of being a listener; a woman instinctively to be trusted: to the end young at heart and the confidant of young people."

A SAN FRANCISCO young man, learning that two of his young lady friends were alone at home one evening, assumed the character of a ghost to frighten them and began to make mysterious noises about the house. The girls took him for a burglar and not a ghost, and one of them leaped the fence and notified a stalwart neighbor. The latter seized an iron poker and charged upon the young ghost and with a terrific blow cracked his skull in a new place. Three doctors are now trying to prevent the young man's attempt to be a ghost being crowned with complete success.

MR. ROBERT HUGH MILLS, in a recent lecture, called attention to the fact that the cultivation of madder has been almost destroyed by the chemical discovery that its identical coloring matter can be cheaply produced from coal tar. The production of indigo is also threatened by an artificial product which the chemists have discovered. A while ago it was found that the cinchona tree could be profitably planted in India, and a fine new field of industry was believed to have opened for the farmers of that country. Scores of chemists, however, have been at work on the synthesis of quinine, and their

PETER ALFRED ANDERSON, of Terre Haute, claims to be the "world's champion water-drinker." He thinks it no feat at all, scarcely, to drink half a gallon in fifty seconds, and has drunk five gallons in five hours, and thirty gallons in a day, which exceeds the capacity of any horse. His appetite keeps up with his thirst pretty well, for he can sit down and eat as much as can ten men, without experiencing inconvenience. He says that some time ago he was in Chicago, and strolled into a restaurant and made a bargain with the proprietor for as much as he wanted to eat, agreeing to pay 50 cents. After he had eaten as much as it would bother half a dozen men to make away with and had called for more, the proprietor became alarmed and offered to repay him his money and to give him $1 to quit, which proposition he accepted. Anderson says he has been examined by a number of physicians, all of whom told him that he has a double stomach. In view of the eating and drinking feats he performs, the statements of the physicians seem to be drawn very mildly.

HARRISON H. RIDDLEBERGER is one of the rarest features in the Senate. Tall, straight, and not bad-looking, he has a long, thin face, which grows florid during certain periods when his blood flows the fastest. He has a high, full forehead, and his brown hair, which is thinning rapidly at the crown, is combed well back, and is generally kept well dressed. He has a long, scraggy, brown beard, and his eyes are bluish-gray. These eyes look straight at his brother Senators when he attacks them, and Riddleberger's enemies say that he chooses his methods of bulldozing and fantastic speaking in the Senate in order to attract attention to himself. He certainly does attract attention, and he is one of the sights from the Senatorial galleries. He wears dark clothes, and his frock coat, usually buttoned, save at the top, there bulges out, giving him the appearance of having a sixty-inch chest. He has good lung-power, and he lives well. He seems to have no personal friends in the Senate, and complained not long ago that he had been insulted by his fellow-Senators, and that he was out on the street by them. He refused, it is said, invitations to state dinners at the White House, and once declined to go to a dinner party at Senator Palmer's because he had no dress-coat and was too poor to buy one.

CAPTAIN JOHN CASHNER, an old resident of the Black Hills of Dakota, relates many interesting episodes of his early life there, but perhaps the most interesting of all was his story of the stone found at Spearhead, near Deadwood, upon which is inscribed the history of the earliest penetration of white men into the hills, written in a hand trembling with the weakness of death itself, by the last survivor of that fated expedition. This stone, irregular in shape, and about ten inches by eight in size, was found March 15, 1887, by Lewis Thorne, a stone-mason of Spearfish. It was found accidentally, carefully concealed under a larger stone, and so placed as to be protected from the elements. Upon one side, traced in trembling lines, but still legible, are the words: "Came to these hills in 1833 seven of us De Lacompt Ezra Kind G W Wood T Brown R Kent Wm King Indian crow all ded but me Ezra Kind Killed by Inds beyond the high hill got our gold June 1834." On the other side was written: "Got all of the gold we could carry our posy all got by the Indians I have lost my gun and nothing to eat and Indians hunting me." "The traditions of the Indians," says Captain Cashner, "bear out the story of this stone. William Gay, an old scout and hunter in the hills, has got the same story from the Sioux Indians They tell of a band from their tribe who were out hunting one day and found the waters of the Whitewood, the stream which runs through Deadwood, muddied, as they supposed, by beavers. They followed up the stream to find the game, and came upon this party of gold hunters. According to the traditions of the Indians, a large party were on their way West, across the plains, when some of them became dissatisfied and branched off into the Black Hills. The rest of the party has never, that I know of, been heard from. The Indians, finding this little band at work, swept down on them, and took their gold and their lives, Kind being the only one who escaped." Captain Cashner says that since this information came into his possession he has endeavored to find some trace of the history of these early explorers, and I have received a letter from a man in Troy, Mo., who states that his uncle, Thomas Brown, accompanied by a man named Richard Kent, joined a large party of gold hunters in 1833 and went West, but that nothing has ever been heard of them since.

That Tired Feeling

Affects nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. ry it this season.

THOMAS F. BAYARD is the only living man who was balloted for in the St. Louis convention in 1876. Tilden, Hendricks, Allen, Hancock, and Parker, all of whom had enthusiastic supporters for the nomination, are dead, and John Kelley and John Morrissey, who were prominent figures at the convention, have followed their chiefs.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It summed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Bolanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Were all wise enough to heed this advice in season, a world of suffering would be avoided. If you suffer from impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, take

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and healthy health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

There are men that she has been struggling to land in matrimony for twenty years, and against whom she this season marshals her forces of pretty girls undismayed and undiscouraged.

EX-SENATOR FAIR has offered $10,000 for the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, for one evening during the Booth-Barrett engagement in order that he may have an exclusive theater party. When Mr. Fair was in the Senate he gave a "rosebud party" to twenty young ladies at a cost of $1,000. The next morning he quarreled with a hackman who wanted to charge him fifty cents for a ride to the Capitol.

MARY HOWITT, the authoress, died a Catholic, although she was buried beside her husband in the English Protestant Cemetery at Rome. She had gone to Rome in order to be present at the Papal jubilee ceremonies. She was received by the Pope, as the first of the English deputation, and after her death the Pope remembered her in his mass. She did not become a Catholic until after the death of her husband, and in thus doing so followed the example of her daughter.

MRS. BRECKINRIDGE, wife of Congressman Breckinridge, of Kentucky, was in her younger days a noted Blue Grass belle, and though she is the mother of grown daughters she retains much of her youthful charms, and is altogether a very lovable woman. Her eyes are large, brown, and humid, her thick hair is drawn carelessly back from a white forehead, over which falls a few short wavy locks, and the pallor of her complexion is accentuated by the severely simple black she usually wears. She is a matter-of-fact woman of great good sense, and has no sympathy with the movement to secure suffrage for women.

THE coasts of Lower California abound with huge turtles which weigh from 300 to 400 pounds each. Down at Punta Banda, where a company is building a big hotel, one of the workmen, who is an expert swimmer and spends much time in the water, has become skilful in riding the big animals. A traveler says that when the man sees one that is big enough to ride he rushes into the water and mounts it. He has a way of slapping the turtles on the side of the head that makes them jog along, and, by striking them, he also guides them. He rode a big fellow near the shore the other day as the stage drove up the coast road and the occupants of the stage were so pleased with the exhibition that they made up a purse of $20 for the rider.

DR. R. W. SHUFELDT suggests to ornithologists that they may find portable photographic outfits of advantage in their studies. He finds that by the use of the instantaneous shutter, birds may be photographed in nearly all of their positions. "Out here on the prairie we will often find an old stump or stalk upon which a dozen or fifteen species of birds will alight during seven or eight hours on almost any day suitable to use the camera upon them. Now, all we have to do is to properly set our instrument near this point, conceal it in such a way as not to alarm the birds, focus it sharply upon the perch where they alight, place on your 'snap shutter,' and fix it with a string and then remove yourself far enough away to pull it when you have a subject sitting to your liking. Birds that you have wounded but slightly may be photographed under the most favorable circumstances; they may also be taken sitting on their nests; in actual flight, however swift, in pursuit of their food; in leading about their young; indeed, the list is almost an endless one. Rookeries also offer admirable subjects, and a splendid field is open at those wonderful resorts of water-birds in such places as the Bahamas or the Alaskan coast."

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

The Lutheran Mutual Aid society elected the following officers last evening: President, Frederick Schmetzer; secretary, Chas. Back; treasurer, Wm. Schmidt.

Mr. W. W. Rockhill returned from St. Louis Springs Saturday and is looking much better, although his health is still poorly. Mr. Rockhill will now remain in the city.

Rev. J. M. Fulton, Rev. D. S. Kennedy and Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat left today for Elkhart, to attend the Presbytery of Northern Indiana, which is in session there this week.

Mr. E. E. Clark, a special pension inspector, arrived in the city to-day, and will make his headquarters here, succeeding Mr. Hovey. Mr. Clark is a very pleasant gentleman.

The grand commandery of Knight Templars will hold its thirty-fourth annual conclave at Masonic hall, Indianapolis, commencing Tuesday, April 24th, 1888. The headquarters will be at the Grand hotel.

A contested election case in Shelby county brings out the fact that the statutes of 1883 make it a penal offense for any person to vote for a road supervisor unless he is residing in his district. In the recent township election persons voted in every township for supervisors residing in other road districts than their own.

The Muncie Times says: "Mr. S. A. Wikel, general freight and passenger agent of the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad, informs the Times that he is making every effort to arrange for the departure of the train bearing the congressional delegation to Rushville on the 19th at an earlier hour than that advertised—10 o'clock."

The association of Congregational churches of northern Indiana will convene at Elkhart to-morrow evening, in semi-annual session. The state association of the Congregational church will convene at Michigan City in annual session May 6th to 11th inclusive. It will be the largest gathering ever held by the organization in the state. The Ladies' Mission board, both home and foreign, will meet at the same time and place.

The law of the state makes it obligatory on persons owning dams on streams in this state to construct fish ladders by which fish are able to reach the source of the streams or shallow water during the spawning season. It is the duty of the trustee to see that owners of dams construct these ladders. The fact that fishing is becoming very poor above such obstructions in streams has become a source of much annoyance to persons who like to fish occasionally and when they do not capture larger game than minnows or sun fish. There is a movement on foot to enforce the law on this question, which if done will make the fishing all along the streams very much better.

Mr. H. G. Olds returned from the east this morning.

Lindenwood cemetery was open to visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Nelson are guests of the Hamilton house.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Terveer, of Decatur, were guests of L. J. Bobilya over Sunday.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monck, who died Saturday was buried to-day.

Mr. W. B. Beamer, of the Wabash road, is in the city, having arrived on the early train.

Mr. R. W. T. DeWald and Mr. Henry Monning were guests of Logansport friends over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bossler, who were guests of relatives in this city, returned last night to Grand Rapids.

The Berghoff and Centlivre breweries were "meccas" yesterday afternoon and thousands of people thronged to them.

Mande Nirdlinger returned home Saturday from a three months' visit east. She is much improved in health.

Sol D. Bayless lodge, 259, F. and A. M., will hold a stated meeting, this evening, when there will be work in the first and second degrees.

The state board of health decrees that all sanitary measures must be enforced before April 15th, and have so informed Dr. Metcalfe, of this city.

Mrs. I. Mantner, wife of one of the proprietors of the Sam, Pete & Max clothing house, has returned and is at home to friends at the Wayne.

D. O. Ramsey, a student of the M. E. college, who has been sick for some time, was taken home last week by his mother, who came here last Friday.

Mr. Joseph Woods, general motive power superintendent on the Pittsburg, was in the city with his family over Sunday. He returned to Pittsburg to-day.

Last evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, on Hoffman street, was celebrated the marriage of Miss Mary Peppers, a pretty and charming girl, and Mr. William Rudolph, jr., night preasman at the Journal office. The young people have many friends and they wish them joy and prosperity for a long life.

From the Cathedral pulpit yesterday Vicar General Brammer pronounced excommunication against Cornelius Graney and his wife, nee Ellen A'Hern. The young people are first cousins and were married outside the church. They can never be reconciled as man and wife, as the church forbids marriage between second cousins.

On Friday evening last, Joe Woods, as jolly a lad as ever pulled a locomotive throttle, celebrated the twenty-eighth anniversary of his birth, at his hospitable home, on Wilt street. A large number of Nickel Plate engineers and their ladiers were present. Plates were set for fifty guests and a royal feast was served. Dancing to the strains of Spiegel's orchestra followed the supper and it was kept up until a late hour in the morning.

The Evangelical conference was in session at Decatur, Ind., last week and several of the ministers were stopping with Thomas Archibald. One night burglars entered Mr. Archibald's house and stole three of the ministers' overcoats. They cut the slats off the shutters, and with a chisel pried up the window and made their entrance. The house of Frank Farrell was also burglarized and $10 in cash taken. The supposition is that home talent did the work.

The following story is told of Miss Eissler, who is soon to appear at the Temple: At the age of thirteen she was called from school in Cleveland to give leading support to Edwin Forrest; a year later she played Ophelie to Barry Sullivan's Hamlet. It is related that during the mad scene Miss Eissler lost herself in the part and began shedding real tears, which interfered to some extent with her voice; when the curtain fell Sullivan said to her: "My little girl, those tears are professional pearls, worth hundreds of pounds each; let them flow but control your voice." She still weeps real tears, but her voice never leaves her.

The Fort Wayne real estate exchange was organized Saturday night, and arrangements are perfected to conduct all property exchanges through this agency in metropolitan fashion. The exchange is officered as follows: President D. C. Fisher, vice-president, John W. Hayden; treasurer, John Dreibelbiss, secretary, C. E. Graves; executive committee: S. C. Lumbard, E. L. Craw and John Curtiss.

The people of St, Marys church yesterday had first communion services for a class of children, fifty-three in number. As is customary on such occasions the solemnity was made very impressive, and the services were witnessed by an immense congregation. The Rev. Pastor, Father Oechtering, sang the mass and preached. In the afternoon the church was again crowded to its utmost, the occasion being confirmation services by the Rt. Rev. Bishop, who also preached. The number confirmed was fifty-three. The altars were richly decorated and displayed good taste. The music and singing were excellent throughout.

On Tuesday afternoon we open for sale a large assortment of 50 pieces all wool Henrietta cloths, in the late shades, at 77c a yard, former price 90c. We show the latest trimmings to match each shade.

GEORGE LAIBLE.

A Fort Wayne Boy Detected in Forgeries at Logansport—Driven to it by Want.

The Logansport Journal has this sensational news:

Logansport furnishes another to her already long list of forgers, and he will probably soon be doing service for the commonwealth, with headquarters at Michigan City. George Laible is his name.

On March 15, Laible went to George B. Forgy, the real estate and loan agent, and asked him if he would loan him $25 with Gust Bergman on his note. Mr. Forgy said he would and so drew a note of usual form for $37.50, with interest at eight per cent., payable in thirty days at the State National bank. Laible took the note and left the office. He returned in a short time with his own and the name of Gust Bergman attached to the note. Mr. Forgy gave him $25 and he went away.

Nothing more was thought by Mr. Forgy about the matter until yesterday, when Laible came to his office and wanted to borrow fifty dollars, offering to give Bergman as security again. A note for $65.50 was drawn and returned signed as before. Mr. Forgy was now suspicious, and made pretense to go out for the money. He sent a note of inquiry to Mr. Bergman, who replied that he had not gone George's security on any note and would not. Officers were notified and the foolhardy young man was put under arrest. Before Squire Fender he waived examination and was bound over to court in the sum of $500, and failing to give the same he was sent to jail.

Laible is 23 years of age, is unmarried and is a brother-in-law of Bergman, whose name he was to handy with. He was for a time at work in the boiler department of the Pan Handle shops, but was discharged about the first of March. He came here from Fort Wayne, where his people live.

When asked what induced him to commit the crime he said he was driven to it. That he was out of work, could find nothing to do and had to have money. He said he thought he could get the money that way without anybody finding it out. He expressed himself as being very sorry for having done the crime, but did not give much evidence of being badly "broken up" over the prospect of the penitentiary. He will probably plead guilty before the court, and Mr. Forgy will ask for the leniency of the court and a light sentence.

TOOK IT IN.

The Fort Wayne Jennsy Electric Light Company Makes a Purchase.

The Logansport Pharos says:

The suit of the Fort Wayne Jennsy electric light company against the Logansport Jennsy company, asking for the appointment of a receiver, has been compromised and dismissed under circumstances that seem best for all concerned. The Fort Wayne company purchases William Dolan's entire interest for $10,200 cash, thus becoming a heavy stockholder. Following the compromise and sale, the company has been re-organized by electing the following directors: A. R. Shroyer, Joseph Setter, Victor Setter and P. W. Moore, of Logansport, and R. T. McDonald, C. W. Smith and P. A. Randall, of Fort Wayne. The directors have selected Mr. Victor Setter as manager, secretary and treasurer, who will have entire charge of the plant. His selection is a guarantee that the business under his charge will be faithfully and acceptably cared for. The newly organized company will at once proceed to thoroughly overhaul the Logansport plant. Necessary new machinery will be supplied as well as new lamps. The lines will be overhauled, street lamps raised, and every change made that will improve the plant. The company will also put in the incandescent system, furnishing lights at something like one cent per hour per lamp.

Cords on the Nervous System.

Cold is not the only factor in the production of catarrh. There is a collateral cause, and a most important one, in certain depressed conditions of the nervous system, which is too little known and appreciated. In healthy conditions of the nervous system, provided reasonable precautions are taken against cold, there is enough vitality in the organism to resist its injurious influence. The nervous system is, in fact, the guardian, controller, the prime regulator of animal heat or body temperature, and its slightest failure to fulfill its responsibile duties—the least relaxation of its constant vigilance—renders us liable to fall a prey to cold.

The following suppositious case will afford an illustration: An individual who habitually drives about in an open conveyance with perfect freedom from catarrh, happens on one occasion to fall asleep when he is out, and the very next day has a cold. The explanation of the phenomenon is to be found in the fact that during sleep nervous energy is lowered and the system, therefore, less able to withstand the injurious effects of cold. If we assume that the individual was also in a state of intoxication at the time, the damage done by cold would be more serious, as the depression of alcohol is superadded to that of sleep. It is therefore, not surprising to find that inflammation of the lungs is frequently contracted under such circumstances. We instinctively acknowledge the nervous depression during sleep by taking the precaution to throw a rug over the knees before our forty winks on the dining-room sofa.

A timid woman comes home one night pale and ghastly with fright, having encountered a specter clad in white, which she calls a "ghost." In a day or two she develops a cold, for which she cannot in any way account. Fear acts as a depressant to the nervous system, crippling its powers of resisting the action of cold; hence the phrase, "shivering with fear." Similarly innumerable events of daily life tend to irritate, depress, or excite the nerves, and render them unfit for maintaining the body-temperature against the fluctuations of weather and climate. During these unguarded moments a trifling exposure to cold or damp is sufficient to induce catarrh. It is known that stout boots, umbrellas, and wraps, though excellent preservatives, in their way, are not by any means the only precautionary measures to be adopted; that we must endeavor to strengthen the nervous system, if it be defective and, that, when we are compelled to expose ourselves to cold or wet when the nerves are depressed from temporary causes, such as fatigue, anxiety, grief, worry, fear, dyspepsia, or ill-humor, we should be specially careful to guard against cold. — Chamber's Journal.

Influence of Valleys on Health.

Mr. Alfred Haviland lately informed the London Social Science Association that many diseases were induced by the common tendency to place houses in valleys instead of on hillsides. He says that valleys do not get a full share of fresh air. The wind blows over, not through them, and the atmosphere within their boundaries is comparatively stagnant. His observations are therefore opposed to the common belief that valleys are especial channels for atmospheric movements; but his opinions are sustained by Dr. B. W. Richardson, who is good authority. The latter gentleman enumerated twenty-five or thirty diseases which he thought might be attributed to the propensity for valley homes. Among them are croup, influenza, scrofula, rheumatism, fistula, calculus, and possibly some malformations. The list is formidable, and to put it mildly, it is almost incredible that diseases of this character can be caused by living in the broad and shallow valleys of England. Mr. Haviland's remarks were illustrated by maps and models showing the geological structure of the earth.—The Galaxy.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y
